Build Your Communication Skills to Master Problem-Solving

Presented by Alka Kumar, PhD | Peace and Conflict Studies,
Research Fellow, CERC in Migration and Integration, Ryerson
University, Manager, Research and Policy, Newcomer Students Association

Are you a woman entrepreneur who aims to manage your current business effectively and optimally? Do you aspire to scale your impact in your community, or learn new skills that can lead you to achieve both personal and professional growth? This workshop can maximize your abilities in two core areas:

- Become equipped with strategic problem-solving tools that will help you balance business success and personal well-being
 - Learn approaches and skills for choosing ‘appropriate’ communication within your venture so that you can achieve your goals

Learning to build and refine your communication skills in a healthy environment is a core component of success. One of the primary objectives of this session then is to co-create an interactive and reflective space where everyone feels safe sharing thoughts and strategies and listening to each other. If you are curious and interested in exploring some new problem-solving strategies that can bring your business to another level, this workshop may be for you!

Getting and Managing the Money

Launching CRMs & Marketing Automation for Sales Success
Presented by Monique Morrison | Founder and Lead Coach of Success with Digital and ELITE Coach with DigitalMarketer

Lost sales and broken sales processes are the #1 thing holding businesses back. Defining your sales process and implementing software to automate that process can not only help prospects from falling off the map but can also help you to understand where they fall off.

Salespeople are the lifeblood of businesses because they drive revenue into your company. The thing is, is that a lot of times they are inundated with so many touchpoints that they have to maintain. By implementing a CRM (customer relationship management) software and an email and marketing automation software, you can relieve that administrative pressure from your sales team and create a sales process that is set up for sales success.

During this workshop, you'll learn how to map out your sales process, what to plan for when implementing, plus see live examples of CRMs and email automations we've implemented for businesses just like yours.

About BIZCamps

During the Covid-19 Pandemic, PARO committed to effectively pivoting our services to best serve our clients in a new virtual world. An important part of this strategy included a series of BIZCamps that supported PARO women to grow, scale-up or expand their businesses, aiming to achieve their goals by turning challenges into opportunities for success. These BIZCamps are designed to help businesses increase and capitalize on market opportunities and expand into new markets including exporting. Since January 2020, PARO has hosted three BIZCamps, each of them tailored to meet the needs of target women entrepreneurs. These BIZCamps provided access to peer support and mentoring, access to funding sources, support from industry experts, and an opportunity to explore the untapped potential of their businesses, especially in a changing world.

Elevate

This 12-week BizCamp is designed to empower women entrepreneurs to scale their business to a sales revenue of $1M or more. Through strategic and leadership development geared to provide stronger alignment of daily actions with goals, participants learn how to build high-performing teams, how to set attainable goals, and to eliminate thinking that holds them back from reaching those goals.

PARO Jetsetter

Jetsetter was designed for women entrepreneurs who have been in business for at least one year with $50,000 in annual sales and who have goals to achieve an annual sales revenue of $250,000 and beyond. Participants were encouraged to set goals throughout the program, all while working at their own pace with online learning modules, group lab sessions, and with individual support from industry experts and PARO Business Counsellors.

Mook'a'm Kwe: She Rises

Mook'a'm Kwe is a multi-week workshop series designed by and for Indigenous women who wish to scale their existing businesses to access opportunities in traditionally male dominated sectors such as mining, forestry, construction, or power. With a hybrid approach that includes Indigenous cultural components, Mook'a'm Kwe participants are supported by PARO's top-notch business counsellors and inspiring facilitators to re-imagine their businesses for scale up; and access opportunities for BIZGrowth funding, designed for growth, scale-up and recovery in the wake of COVID-19 and the evolving landscape. Weekly workshops provide participants with professional business mentoring from business planning, to marketing, sales, and financial and human resource management.

Letter from the CEO & President

On October 30, 2021, PARO Centre for Women's Enterprise was awarded the International "Bridging the Gap" in Women's Empowerment in the Canadian community during the COVID-19 Global pandemic. This award honours women in the society through all possible means, voicing against sexual violence and discrimination, creating opportunity for gender equality and stimulating policies of government and non-government agencies. This Award speaks to PARO as an organization that provides unique, women-centred, and holistic supports towards building sustainable goods for women, not that providing access to grants and loans or one-on-one counseling. PARO is not about being the largest organization, but recognizing that there needs to be other supports as mentioned above to help pave the road to success for women entrepreneurs in Canada. To make increasing progress in overcoming the barriers that women experience, we need to look at the lived reality of women entrepreneurs and continuously work to create change in systems that restrict their progress.

For over 25 years, PARO has supported women to start and scale women's businesses and social enterprises. Using a unique approach to community economic development that prioritizes the five asset areas of the Sustainable Livelihoods Model, PARO meets women where they are and seeks to empower, educate, and inspire them toward reaching their business and personal goals. As part of our commitment to deliver on our mission, PARO has continued to support women entrepreneurs to support intersectional diversity. At PARO, we believe that equal access to economic success leads to closing the gender gap for all genders. We believe that in achieving business success, women entrepreneurs gain independence through financial, personal, professional, and spiritual empowerment as they make their own choices and create a better way of life for themselves, their families, and their community. Through Our work, PARO contributes to a broader strategy of gender equity by creating and executing programs that are women-centred, trauma-informed, and that prioritize an intersectional lens.

Thanks to all the PARO Team, board of directors, supporting funders, and community partners for working together through this challenging time to provide the supports that women needed the most. Because of you, we provided $74,000 in PARO programs to this year, leveraged by $1,713,689 in other services. We also helped 2372 women to re-imagine and transform their businesses to survive the huge challenges that they endured.

Coming out of this pandemic, we will continue to talk with and work together with the women we serve to create programs that will continue to meet their needs in this quickly changing economy. We will endeavour to learn from working through the Pandemic, to create a better way of living and to thrive despite challenge.
